It's the ultimate video game where it's all about the driver as well as the high-speed thrills. Being caught by a speeding Los Angeles Police Department vehicle is just the beginning. If you've ever wished for a chance to race in the streets of the modern L.A. – the driving and filming simulation game that we've featured before – now's your chance to try it out for yourself! The fast-paced, action-packed game comes to Xbox Live Arcade and Windows PC in March and lets you be just like L.A.'s finest in fast cars and on the streets! It's time to get your car on the streets of the "City of Angels." This crazy game lets you race L.A.'s finest as they try to stop you in your car. You can even change lanes while being chased by police. This game also has a mode where you can try to pass the cops as they chase you through L.A.'s streets. How It Works: L.A. Noire takes place in Los Angeles, California. It's a gritty world of a different era and culture that is unique in many ways. Although it's a recreation of the Los Angeles, it's also set in a fictional universe. As such, in order to play the game, you have to have a Rockstar Games Social Club account. The account only takes a few minutes to sign up for, though, and once you have it you can get started playing. The game is split into three distinct areas: Most of the game is spent playing through the main story line. You play through the events of the game with the help of L.A. Detective Cole Phelps. You get to drive the city's finest police cars such as the Los Angeles Police Department's Metro Squad T-34 and Dodge Charger police cruiser. The story of the game revolves around one of the most infamous unsolved cases of the century: the Black Dahlia case. The game starts before the crime ever happened and as you progress you get to read more about the case. You will even meet Detective Joseph Cotton, a key figure in the investigation. You get to play as Phelps as he follows up on leads and helps solve the case. You can talk to people in the game and interview them for information about the case. You will also interact with witnesses and victims of the crime, and the
